

The background of the slide is a photograph. It shows two whole fish, likely Atlantic salmon, lying on a bed of crushed ice. In the center, there is a white plate with a piece of cooked fish (possibly cod or salmon) served on a bed of green pesto or herb sauce, garnished with sliced almonds and fresh herbs. The text 'Sjømat, selvberging, Trump og trøbbel' is overlaid in large white letters across the center of the image.

Sjømat, selvberging, Trump og trøbbel

Christian Chrømer | adm. dir.

SEA FROM NORWAY

Verdens største netto-eksportør av sjømat

175,4

Milliarder NOK

2,8

Millioner tonn

150+

Land

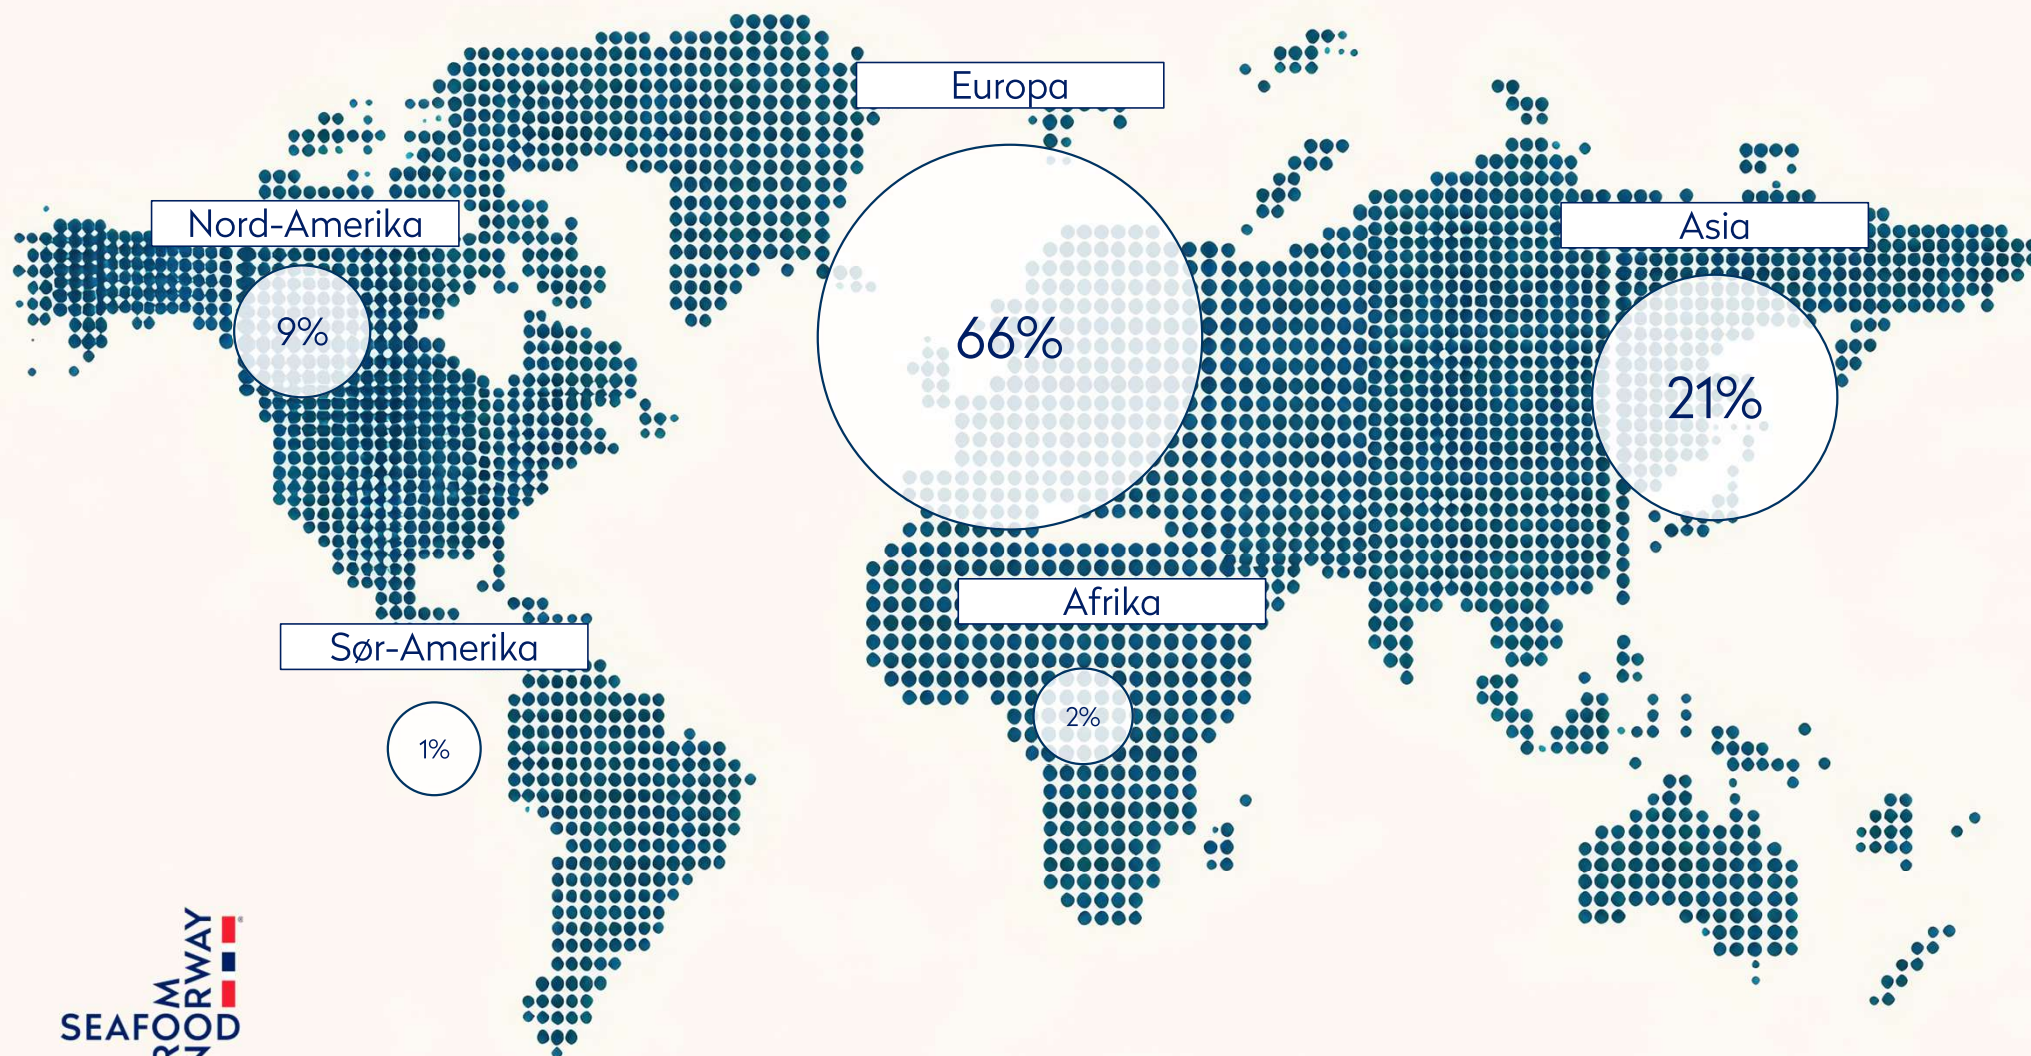

Global tilstedeværelse

■ Markets with physical presence

The image features a top-down view of three fish tacos on a dark, circular plate. The tacos are filled with white fish, mango, tomatoes, onions, and cilantro. In the background, a grill with three butter cubes melting on it is visible. The text "38 millioner måltider hver dag" is overlaid in white, with the number "38" being significantly larger than the rest of the text.

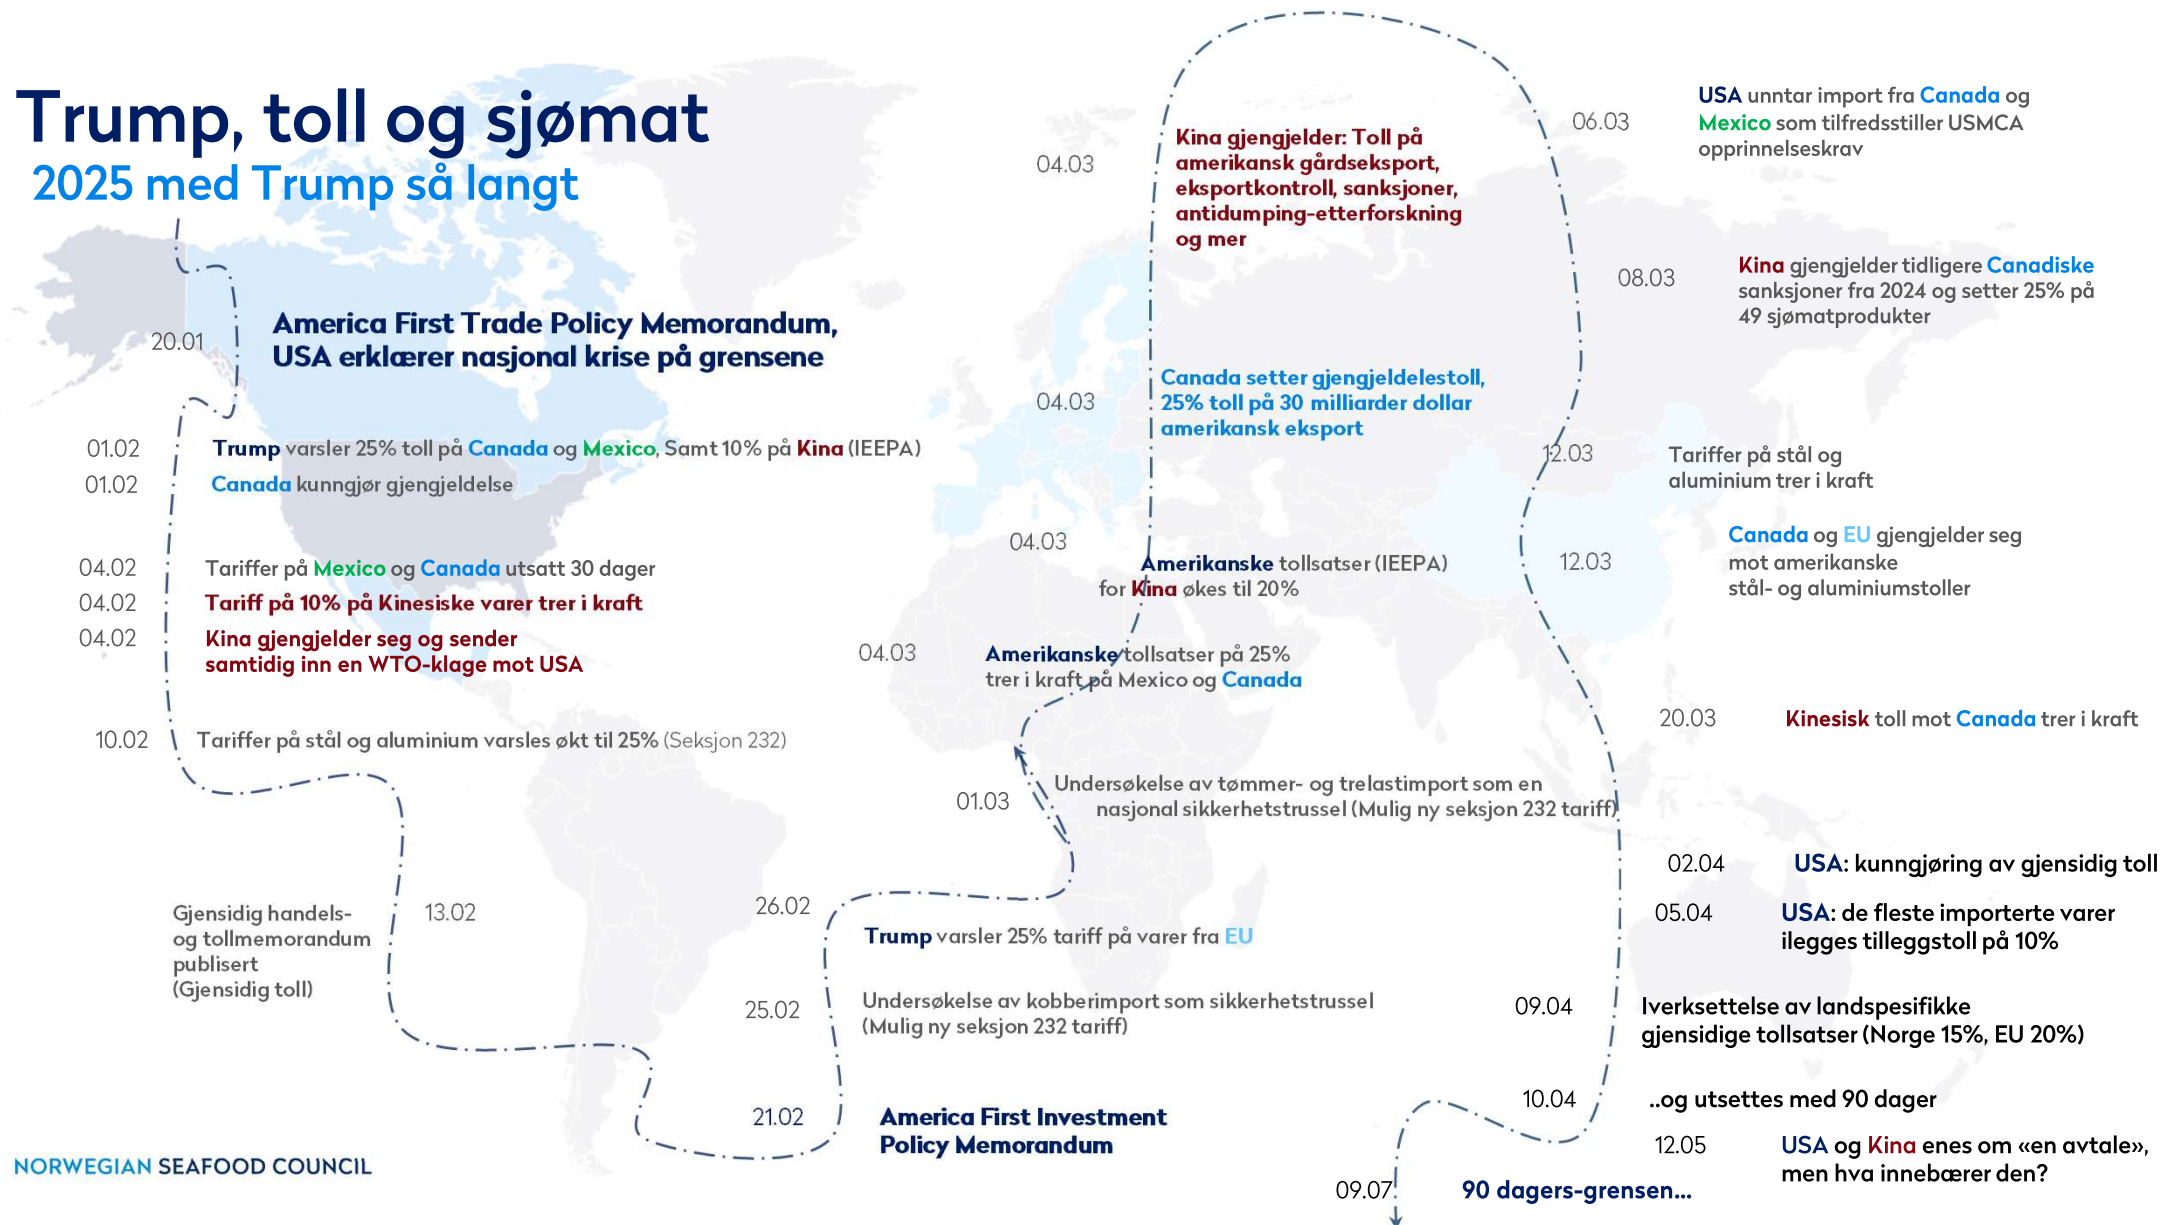

38
millioner måltider
hver dag

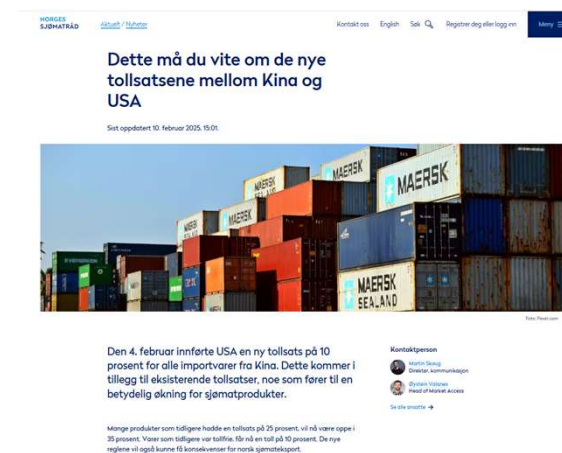

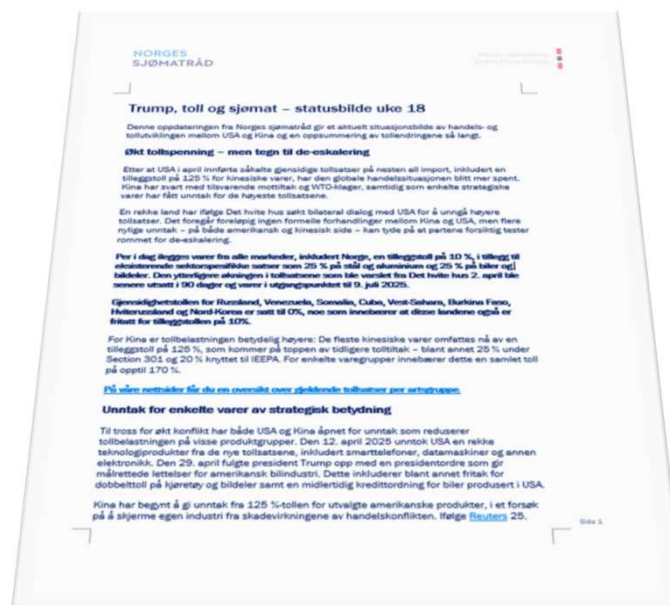

Trump, toll og sjømat

2025 med Trump så langt

Hva gjør vi med det?

- 5 webinarer
- 10 “statusdokumenter”
- Webside-informasjon
- Dialog med norske myndigheter, salgslag og sjømatorganisasjoner om markedsadgang i andre markeder

- www.seafood.no
- cc@seafood.no
- innsikt@seafood.no

US, China agree to slash tariffs by 115% in boost to seafood trade

The US and China agreed Monday (May 12) to a temporary 90-day reduction in reciprocal tariffs that could significantly ease costs for seafood importers and exporters trading between the world's two largest economies

By Louis Harkell | May 12, 2025 09:07 BST

Related

FREE READ Navigate Trump seafood tariff impact with UCN prices, trade portals

Frozen pollock fillets only major US seafood product left off EU's latest €95bn tariffs list

www.undercurrentnews.com